Dear Hoosiers,

I will be hosting a health care event for seniors and baby boomers this Friday at Indiana University in Kokomo. The event will have presentations from government experts, and I'll take questions about health care reform proposals in Congress. This event is open to the public and seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

I hope to see you in Kokomo on Friday! The details are below.

**Also, during the event, I plan to announce the date and location of my next Job Fair****

Sincerely,
